THE DISMISSAL.

A Diversity of Opinion Seems to Prevail Concerning It.

STRAIGHT-OUT DEMOCRATS LOUD IN THEIR PRAISES

Of the President and Secretary. While the Republicans Grow Eloquent Over What They Term an Unnecessary Insult to Great Britain—Disunion-faction in England—Comments.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The action of the president in dismissing British Minister West, has revived the excitement incident to the Murchison letter with which that gentleman was caught. The dismissal is variously commented upon according to the politics of the person speaking.

Straight-out Democrats commend and praise the president and Secretary Bayard in giving West his walking papers, while Republicans are eloquent upon the unnecessary insult offered to England in abruptly giving the minister his conge. There are some Democrats who share this feeling, declaring it was a needless exaggeration of a trivial matter, which might have better and with proper dignity, been left to the British government to deal with at its pious leisure.

Ardent Democrats, however, claim that England was too slow, and did not recognize the political exigencies of the case here; that delay only increased the difficulties, whereas the prompt action of Secretary Bayard has closed the case and made it a thing of the past by preventing, in large measure, the dangerous discussion that was going on regarding the relations of the two countries.

The main denunciations are of the brutal letter written by Secretary Bayard to Mr. West, but Mr. Bayard emphatically denies that the published letter is anything like the one he sent to the British minister. He says, however, that no further official communication will be held with Lord Sackville, nor will he be countenanced in any manner as a public functionary.

Lord Sackville was seen Wednesday but refused to talk. It is claimed that he will not at once leave this country. His retirement from his official position in this country does not, of course, retire him from the diplomatic service of his country. What his position will be at home will depend chiefly upon his influence there and the disposition of the British toward this government.

He has been for forty-three years in the diplomatic service of his country, and may be retired, but such retirement would, in effect, be his disgrace. If the British government determines to sustain him, he will receive an appointment of equal rank to the one he retires from. He might be promoted to a higher mission. This would be regarded as intended to rebuke the action of this country.

Now that Lord Sackville is by the action taken by the government of the United States Wednesday no longer minister to this country, the first secretary of the British legation naturally becomes the official representative of the government of Great Britain. Mr. Edwards, the first secretary, is absent, however, and will not return for some time, so that Mr. Michael Herliert, who was recently made second secretary, is now acting minister. Mr. Herliert recently arrived here from Europe and is to be married to a lady of New York, who will thus become the mistress of the British legation for a time.

Various opinions are also expressed on the suggestion of Secretary Bayard to prosecute the writer of the Murchison letter, if he can be found, for violation of an old statute imposing a fine of $5,000 and imprisonment for not less than six months or more than three years on any one found guilty of holding communication directly or indirectly with any foreign government or agent thereof in relation to any dispute or controversies with the United States.

Diplomatists generally express sympathy for Lord Sackville in being made the innocent victim of both political parties.

The Opinion of English Politicians.
LONDON, Nov. 2.—In spite of the fact that most of the newspapers and a large majority of the politicians in and out of office, agree that President Cleveland's action in giving Lord Sackville his conge, was not only perfectly proper, but indeed the only thing he could do in the circumstances, the affair has caused a general murmur of dissatisfaction with the manner in which the minister was dismissed, the mutterings proceeding chiefly from a desire to conceal the universal feeling of chagrin. Nor are the growls altogether directed toward the American government.

While it is freely charged that Mr. Cleveland has exercised his official prerogative in his own personal interest, with a view of making party capital, and influencing his re-election, a considerable proportion of the press and the people are disposed to lay the blame for England's humiliation at the door of Lord Salisbury. It is claimed that while the effect of Lord Sackville's indiscreet conduct made it appear that the British minister's departure from Washington in consequence was inevitable, the premier should have recalled him at once, in order that the spectacle of the peremptory dismissal of a British representative by the government to which he was accredited might be averted.

That Lord Salisbury was perfectly well aware from the outset that Lord Sackville could no longer remain in Washington as the representative of Great Britain there can be no doubt whatever, and the opinion is openly expressed that he purposely exposed the unfortunate minister to the humiliation which has been visited upon him in order that a popular feeling of indignation might be aroused against the American government by the action, he knew the Washington authorities must take in the event of his neglect to promptly perform his duty.

The course taken by the American senate in the matter of the Canadian fisheries treaty and later that of the President in his retaliation message is still fresh in the minds of the premier and his colleagues and it is not unlikely that the foregoing opinion is based upon something more than mere surmise. English popular indignation against a country 5,000 miles away is not such a terrible thing after all, but in the absence of any more potent means of retaliation it was possibly thought well to manufacture and use it.

The most disappointing part of the affair is, however, the fact that the quantity of popular indignation produced is exceedingly small and most of it is directed against those who could, if they would, have spared England her present humiliation.

More English Comments.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The Post has a leading editorial on the Sackville incident, in which it says: "We find the head of the republic driven to offer an affront to a British minister, and through him to the friendly country which he represents. To Englishmen the incident is of little importance. This country has nothing to hope or to fear from the United States, and it is a matter of small interest to us whether the Democrats or Republicans win in the coming presidential election."

The Standard follows up its leader of Wednesday by saying: "It might be proper to show our sense of wounded dignity by tendering Mr. Phelps his passports. The president is not satisfied to renounce diplomatic intercourse, but must need strip the British minister of all title to the functions for which he is accredited. He degraded our ambassador before ordering him to leave the country. Lord Sackville is not allowed the ordinary hospitality of American soil. He is told to go at once. If war had been declared between the two nations the state department could have done nothing more obviously unfriendly. As a mere matter of etiquette the course pursued at Washington will not redound to the credit of American manners, but that concerns Americans. For Englishmen it is quite enough to feel that their ambassador is being hustled out of the United States in a most contemptuous fashion."

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "If Secretary Bayard's rebuke of Lord Sackville fails to convince Irish voters that President Cleveland can be relied upon to check John Bull as much as any other man, we do not see what there is left for him to do short of placing Lord Sackville under arrest, and escorting him to the frontier. How silly it is! How much the Americans will despise themselves for it when the election fever is over!"

The St. James Gazette says: "The English should treat Secretary Bayard's insolence with contempt. We are not, however, exactly prepared to send ironclads to Long Island because Secretary Bayard has been outrageously offensive. Respectable Americans are nearly as much disgusted over the events as Englishmen."

The Globe says: "The uncourteous announcement might create very strained relations between the two countries. Formally its true character is recognized on both sides. Lord Sackville has been subjected to unmanly treatment by both Mr. Bayard and President Cleveland."

The Press association announces that Lord Sackville comes to England immediately on a leave of absence; that he has important business to attend to in connection with his succession to the Sackville estates, and that he will not return to Washington.

Considered Ended.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The government consider the Sackville incident ended. They have not yet, however, been advised of the date of Lord Sackville's return. It is possible that some time may elapse before a new ambassador will be sent to Washington by the government. In American circles there some anxiety is expressed for the appointment to the post of Lord Dufferin, who has resigned his post as viceroy of India, former governor general of Canada.

The Opinion of Editors.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The Herald has compiled the opinions of editors all over the country, as to how they regard the dismissal of Lord Sackville, and sums up as follows: Approving the dismissal, 63; disapproving, 32; undecided, 11.

Sir John Macdonald's Opinion.

MONTREAL, Nov. 2.—Sir John Macdonald expresses the opinion that the British government will follow its usual rule of promotion and name Secretary Edwards as Lord Sackville's successor at Washington.

A NEW EXPLOSIVE.

More Powerful Than Dynamite and Less Dangerous to Handle.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., Nov. 2.—Rudolph Ericson, a young Swede employed in the drugstore here, has been experimenting with a new explosive claimed to be more powerful and safer to handle than dynamite. It was discovered by Rudolph's uncle, a chemist with whom he worked before coming to this country. Experiments prove that the explosive cannot be exploded in open air, either by heating, concussion or detonation.

When firmly tamped into a hole in rock and fired by fuse, it is claimed nine ounces of the new explosive did the work of two pounds of gunpowder or one pound of dynamite. The manufacture of the explosive will be commenced in New Britain at once. The street commissioners of Hartford have decided to use it in the city quarries. The French government is said to have paid one million francs for the right to use it.

Miners Forming a New Organization.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 2.—The report having reached General Master Workman Powderly that the miners belonging to the Knights of Labor and the Federation of Miners and Mine Laborers have in contemplation the formation of a new and distinct organization at the joint convention to be held at Columbus, O., early in December, he has written a letter to the miners' assemblies throughout the country advising them to discuss the question at their earliest meetings and notify him in time for the annual meeting of the general assembly. There are about seventy-five thousand miners in the two organizations referred to, fully two-thirds of them being members of the Knights of Labor.

Fell From a Window.

LEBANON, Ind., Nov. 2.—Reese Garrett, ex-recorder of Boone county, fell from the second-story window of a building here last night and fractured one of his lower limbs in two places. It is doubtful if he can recover.

KIDD'S TREASURE.

CONTAINING 1,550 DOUBLOONS, WORTH NEARLY $25,000.

The Find Made on a Farm Near Westport, Massachusetts, Once Owned By One of Captain Kidd's Pirates—$100,000 More Said to Be Buried There—A Kettle Holding $2,000 Dug Up in Kentucky.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Nov. 2.—For some generations a large farm on Horse Neck, West Port, has been in the hands of the Eddy family. Three generations back it was owned by Amasa Eddy, who was a pirate under Capt. Kidd. When Kidd came to his untimely end, Eddy returned to the farm and gained a good reputation. He placed 1,550 Spanish coins in a kettle and buried it on the farm. Eddy died at the age of ninety-four and left a document drawn up in the traditional buried treasure style, for the use of his descendants when they desired a little ready cash.

Amasa Eddy, his son, was lieutenant governor of Rhode Island, and a conservative man, who put no faith in the tales of buried money. His son, James M. Eddy, runs a hotel just outside of Providence. He owns the family farm at Westport, and the buried treasure document came into his possession.

Following its directions, he dug at odd times, but without success, until Wednesday morning, when he unearthed an old iron kettle and 1,550 big doubloons, worth $24,800. Eddy is not through searching and is confident there is still $100,000 in gold Spanish doubloons buried on the farm. There is little doubt that the treasure is the lost hoard of Capt. Kidd.

$2,000 Unearthed in Kentucky.

OWENSBORO, Ky., Nov. 2.—Anderson Johnson, living in this county, unearthed a copper kettle which contained over $2,000 in silver and gold. The kettle was inscribed "October, 1788."

BOARDED BY SAVAGES.

Thrilling Experience of the Crew of a Vessel Wrecked on Cayman Island.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—The Norwegian steamship Kognif arrived here to day from Jamaica, having on board Captain Jacobsen and one sailor belonging to the Norwegian bark Inga, which was wrecked on the island of Cayman September 17, while on a voyage from Montevideo to Ship Island, Miss. Captain Jacobsen says that so soon after the vessel struck on the island, she was boarded by nearly two hundred colored wreckers, who made a bold and daring attempt to take possession of and rob the vessel.

They made an attempt to gain entrance at the after cabin, and were only prevented from doing so at the point of the pistol. When the savages were driven from the vessel's deck the crew landed in their lifeboats on the island of Cayman. They were the only civilized people there and subsisted two weeks on coconuts and a little gin they had saved. At the expiration of this time Capt. Jacobsen got possession of a small sloop in which he and his crew made sail for Jamaica. They only had a small quantity of provisions, and expected to reach Jamaica in two days, but instead of this they were a week. Their sufferings from exposure and want of sufficient food are beyond description.

PAYING FOR THE SLAIN.

The Lehigh-Road Negotiating for a Settlement of the Mud Run Horror.

SCHAEFFER, Pa., Nov. 2.—William Connel, who was selected by the Lehigh Valley company as its representative in this region in the settlement of damages growing out of the Mud Run disaster, has announced that the company would pay $3,500 where heads of families were victims of the disaster, $1,800 in the cases of young men, and $1,500 where the victims were under eighteen years of age. Two claimants have already accepted these terms; others have asked for time to consider them, and some decline to make settlements on this basis. The death Wednesday of Kate Kennedy, aged eighteen, of this city, makes the number of deaths from the collision sixty-three.

A Well Known Evangelist Dead.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Rev. William C. Van Meter, the well known evangelist and missionary, died Wednesday at Rome, Italy, aged sixty-eight years. Dr. Van Meter was one of the founders of the Howard missions in this city forty years ago, and as its superintendent he carried on for twenty-five years the work of rescuing children from the slums, and finding Christian homes for them throughout the country. It was largely through his efforts that the notorious Five Points was cleaned out, and some of its vile dens replaced by mission houses. For the past fifteen years Dr. Van Meter has been engaged in missionary school work among the children of Italy.

Schooners Collide.

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—The schooner Mary, of Belfast, Me., Capt. Snow, from Roundout, was in collision with the fishing schooner James Costa, of Boston. The Costa struck the Mary head on cutting her through, and the crew barely escaped in the boats before the vessel sank. The Costa was slightly damaged and has returned here for repairs.

A Banker Absconds.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—L. Berman, sole partner of L. Berman & Company, Russian-American bank and exchange, 15 Orchard street, is missing and the bank closed. The depositors in the bank are mostly Polish Jews and the amount that Berman is supposed to have absconded with is about $10,000.

Preparing for the Next Congress.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Mr. Randall, chairman of the house appropriations committee, has directed that a call be issued for a special meeting of the committee on Wednesday, November 21, for the purpose of beginning the work of the appropriation bills for the next session of congress.

VIA CANADA.

They Pay $50 to Land There and Then Sneak Over the Boundary Line.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 2.—Evidently a large number of Chinese are arriving in British colonial ports from China, who are not destined to remain in Canada, but are taking this means of smuggling themselves into the United States over the boundary dividing that province from Washington Territory. They have to pay $50 tax per head on landing, which they willingly do, with the prospect of getting into the United States.

The minister of customs, who has just returned from the Pacific coast, where he has been looking into the Chinese question, says that no matter how stringent the United States laws may be this channel will always be used by the Chinese for that purpose. There is no work for them now in British Columbia, and no inducement for them to emigrate there, so the real object of their leaving China is apparent. That the friendly relations existing between Great Britain and China may not be disturbed the British government has requested that no more stringent legislation than that now in force may be enacted in Canada against the Chinese.

RAN OFF WITH THE KEYS.

An Express Messenger Saves the Contents of the Company's Safe.

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 2.—The Mexican Central passenger train, due here at 7:45 Wednesday morning, was held up sixty-two miles below El Paso at 4:30 o'clock by three masked men. They came on the engine over the tender, and at the point of a six-shooter forced the engineer and fireman to stop the train and get off. They divided the train, and left the passenger cars and ran on six miles, when they again stopped and robbed the express car, getting over $2,000.

Express Messenger N. T. Villegas jumped out of the car at the side door while the robbers were breaking the end door, and ran off in the darkness with the keys to the safe, thus preventing the robbers from getting the valuable contents of the safe.

The robbers came on with the engine nearly to Juarez and then abandoned it. They cut the telegraph wires, and it was nearly 8 o'clock before a telegram was received at Juarez telling of the robbery. The men were Americans, and are supposed to have come across the river, but there is no clew to them.

WHILE TESTING A FIRE-ESCAPE

At Pittsburg, Two Boys Are Killed and Another Seriously Injured.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 2.—While testing a rope fire-escape at the Monongahela house Wednesday afternoon, the rope broke, and three boys, James McClure, aged fourteen years, John Duddy, aged fifteen years, and Daniel Nagle, aged fifteen years, were precipitated from the fifth story to the pavement, a distance of seventy feet. McClure and Duddy fell head foremost and were killed instantly. Nagle had both arms and legs broken, and will probably die. The agent of the fire-escape, P. G. Wilson, of Zanesville, O., who hired the boys to come down the escape, paying them five cents each, has been arrested.

Another Strike Outbreak.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—At a late hour Wednesday night several of the new North Side street railroad employees were engaged in playing pool in a saloon at Clybourn and Racine avenues, when they were attacked by a number of the old men, the latter using chairs and whatever else came handy. The men were drawn and a number of shots were fired. Conductor Gannell shooting a man named Montee in the leg. Montee had previously attacked Gannell with a chair. Montee was taken to Alexian Brothers' hospital, where it was found that the bullet had broken a bone. Gannell was the only one arrested.

Students Come to Disgrace.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 2.—A mob of about 200 students attempted to celebrate Halloween Wednesday night in a manner which brought them to disgrace and landed three of them in jail. They first attempted to break up a procession which the Democrats were holding, but were unsuccessful. They next went to a meeting, at which W. L. Putnam, of Maine, was speaking, with the intention of raising a disturbance, but they were ejected. They then raised Bedlam in the streets until three of them were jailed, when they went in a mob to the jail and tried to effect their release, but they were unsuccessful.

Murdered His Mother.

WASHINGTON, Kan., Nov. 2.—Louis Brubaker, aged twenty-four, while just recovering from an attack of typhoid fever, called his mother, aged fifty-five, to his room Wednesday afternoon. His sister, on hearing a scuffle soon after, went to the room, and was horrified to find her mother lying on the floor dead with her throat cut from ear to ear. As she entered Brubaker drew a knife across his own throat, but without inflicting a fatal wound. He fought desperately, but was finally overpowered and lodged in jail. He is considered a hopeless maniac.

Two $75,000 Libel Suits.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 2.—A special from Mansfield says that C. E. Foster and Frank L. Freeman, of Washington, have brought suit against W. M. Sturgis and the Barr Cash and Package Carrier company for $75,000 for malicious libel. Suit has also been brought against the same parties for a like amount in the United States court here on a similar charge by W. L. Samson and Frank Means. The trouble grew out of the issuance of a circular containing alleged derogatory statements.

Accident in a Rolling Mill.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 2.—At 11 o'clock a. m., a "tap" in the front of a puddling furnace in Zugg's rolling mill, on Bonn avenue, broke down, allowing a large quantity of molten metal to pour out into a tank of water. A terrific explosion occurred. Puddler George Smith was instantly killed, literally blown to pieces; Helper Joseph Kline was fatally scalded; his son, aged sixteen, and John Zetwold, buggy men, were seriously burned.

Républican Mass Meeting.

HARRISONBURG, Va., Nov. 2.—A large Republican mass meeting was held here yesterday at which Hon. John B. Henderson, of Missouri, was the principal speaker.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

FRIDAY EVE., NOV. 2, 1888.

The Republicans are on the run. Keep 'em a goin'.

CLEVELAND has got the best of the Republicans at every turn. They have dug pit after pit for him, only to tumble in themselves.

Don't fail to put in a vote for Paynter next Tuesday. Every Democrat should be on hand early in the day.

No wonder Republicans hate Cleveland. Their shrewdest men are no match for him, and he has balked them at every scheme they have attempted.

My LORD SACKVILLE has been shown the door, and President Cleveland has put another feather in his cap by the patriotic manner in which he has disposed of the matter.

Reports from the district are encouraging, and all that is necessary to insure a victory for Paynter next Tuesday is for the Democrats of Mason County to do their duty. Let every fellow vote. And vote early.

Says the Dover News: "A vote for Burchett is a vote to increase taxation. A vote for Paynter is a vote to reduce taxation. The laboring man who votes for the Republican candidate votes directly against his own interests."

"ETERNAL vigilance is the price of liberty." Mr. Paynter, Democratic nominee for Congress, believes this, and has sent out a large number of circular letters to the Democrats of Mason County urging them to see that the full vote of the party is polled next Tuesday.

Says the Carlisle Mercury: "Some of our exchanges are publishing an affidavit about Major Burchett charging the Marshal of Louisiana one-half of the receipts of his office for going on his bond. We don't care anything about that. We are going to vote against him in Nicholas because he is in favor of high taxes. He can rob his town Marshal if he likes, but he can't get his claspers on us."

American Versus European Wages.

The average American workman performs from one and one-half to twice as much work as the average European workman.—(Wm. M. Evaris, report as Secretary of State in the Hayes Administration, May 17, 1879.)

Undoubtedly the inequalities in the wages of English and American operatives are more than equalized by the greater efficiency of the latter and their LONGER HOURS OF LABOR.—(James G. Blaine, report as Secretary of State in the Garfield administration, June 25, 1881.)

Parnell's Mother.

Standing in a beating rain, last Saturday, the aged mother of Charles Stuart Parnell grasped Grover Cleveland's hand and said: "Mr. President, as I appear to be the oldest Democrat present, I thought I ought to come over here." This is the daughter of the man who covered the American navy with glory, and in the old Constellation took two French ships with almost double his ship's metal; afterward, in the old Constitution, fought a two-decker all day from sun to sun, and next day took a forty-four, and hoisted the stars and stripes above the Union Jack. Does anybody suppose that Old Ironsides' daughter would give her hand to a British candidate? Not a bit of it. Does anybody think that Mrs. Parnell would not know a British candidate if she should meet him in the big road? Here was a spectacle for every Irishman to study. The old lady knows a Democrat and an anti-Britisher when she sees him.—Courier-Journal.

A PENNSYLVANIA STAMPEDE.

Seven Hundred Republican Miners Flopp to Cleveland—Colored Revolt.

READING, Pa., Oct. 25.—William H. Still, an influential colored man of this city and Treasurer of the Pennsylvania Colored Democratic League, has the names of 12 colored men of this city who will vote the Democratic ticket this fall. In other years the 150 colored voters in Reading were solidly Republican. There is a regular revolt among the iron ore miners in the iron ore district along the East Pennsylvania Railroad between this city and Allentown. The miners number about 700, and because they are employed in a protected industry, nearly all formerly voted the Republican ticket. Milford Ritter, Chairman of the Berks County Democratic Committee, to-day completed a canvass of this district with the astonishing result that hardly one of the 700 iron ore miners will vote for Harrison and Morton. Republicans, themselves, admit this. These miners are compelled to work at 60 and 80 cents a day and have to support large families.

A TOAST.

Come fill up your glasses, fellows,
And set them in a row,
We'll drink to the election
Of gallant Tom Paynter, O.
Here's health to Grover Cleveland,
God bless the brave hero!
He's an honor to his country,
A terror to the foe.

In this wine or this water
The libation we would pour
Should be peace to all forever
And to Grover four years more.

MASON AND BRACKEN.

A Great Meeting of the Democracy at Germantown Last Night.

The Democrats of Germantown covered themselves with laurels last night. Their torch-light procession and speaking was a grand success.

The parade was participated in by over 1,000 men, of whom 500 carried torches. In addition there were ladies and children present by the hundreds.

The citizens had their homes beautifully illuminated and colored fires were burned along the route of the procession. The speaking took place in the seminary lot, where a grand stand had been erected for the occasion, and seats arranged for five hundred people.

Ex-Congressman John B. Clarke, of Brooksville, Judge Wall and Messrs. L. W. Galbraith and C. B. Poyntz delivered telling speeches on the issues of the campaign. Master Porter Cooper, aged twelve years, caught the crowd by an able recitation on the subject of the tariff. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed.

The Bracken Democracy say their country is good for 800 majority for Paynter. The Sarda Cornet Band and the Bracken Band enlivened the meeting with choice music, and all went home happy.

How's the Hoosier State?

Dr. Henry Marsh, formerly of this city, in a letter from Muncie, Ind., says: "As for Indiana, we are all satisfied over here that she's all right. I had a letter this morning from our own Governor, Isaac P. Gray, in which he says we are all right if every Democrat will stick to his post until the last day in the evening, and as this is our sticking year we will be found there when the g. o. p. gurgles her last gurgle. 'When the frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder's in the shock, we will see the grand old party go down kirlippity keelop.'"

"The melancholy days have come
The saddest of the year,
When grandpa's grandson
Will drop—a briny tear.
'He'll wake up on November seventh
When all is bright and clear,
He'll look about with anxious gaze
And then he'll drop—a tear.
'He'll open his eyes with 'stonishment
And say, 'what's all this I hear?'
Then he'll settle down in discontent
And silently drop—a tear."

"I have seen Indiana politics in all its phases. Carlisle was at Anderson, (twenty miles west of here), the other day. I took a day off and went over. We went about 500 strong from here and had a dandy drum corps. Of all the sights I ever saw that beat the record. Talk about enthusiasm, &c.,—well I can't describe it. There were about 30,000 people in the crowd, and you ought to have seen the girls. Every one of 'em—the girls, I mean—had on a handana suit or a suit of red, white and blue. Oh, it was a sight good for sore eyes. And they yelled as loud and long as any of the men.

"Eight or ten of us from Muncie hired a dray and got an old colored Democrat on top of it with us. We covered him all over with bandanas and flags and attracted more attention than all the rest of the parade. Gee! But we had a picnic."

Join the Process Next Monday.

Democrats of the surrounding country are cordially invited to come in next Monday evening and take part in the parade. A large crowd on horseback are expected to be a feature of the procession. Another feature of the parade will be a company of the juvenile Democrats of this city, headed by Master "Dimple" Wheatley.

Hon. C. J. Broxton, of Lexington, and Hon. J. D. Kehoe will be the speakers of the occasion.

Another "Southern Outrage."

Republicans must be getting desperate over the idea of losing some of the colored vote.

They held a meeting at Tollesboro last night, during which they ran across a young negro who has openly declared his intention to vote the Democratic ticket. The sight of him seemed to enrage them and they set upon him and beat him unmercifully.

Such is the news furnished us by the Burtonville bus driver.

Mr. H. C. Metcalfe, of Brooksville, who was in town Tuesday, admits that Paynter will carry Bracken by 400 or 500 majority and perhaps more. That means 700 or 800. Mr. Metcalfe is a Republican.

Committee on Fire Department was directed to see that the fire engines are kept in working order and the public cisterns filled, for use in case the supply of water from the reservoir was accidentally shut off at any time.

Marshal Hefflin said he was directed by Mayor Pearce to ask council to authorize the appointment of not to exceed fifteen special police for service on election day. Mr. Wadsworth wanted to know whether the Mayor or the Committee on Police would make the appointments. When told it was the Mayor's duty under the charter to make such appointments, he was opposed to granting the authority. He didn't want a Democratic Mayor to name the officers. Marshal Hefflin said the Mayor had given assurances that he would at once discharge any and all such special police if they attempted to interfere in any way with the election, but that didn't satisfy Mr. Wadsworth, and the matter was dropped.

PARNELL'S CASE.

Captain O'Shea's Evidence Creates a Sensation.

SIR WILLIAM HARCOURT AND MR. GLADSTONE IMPLICATED.

It was the latter's wish that witness should be as reticent as possible from motives of political expediency. Narrow escape of the czar and Czarina.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Before the Parnell commission Wednesday, Attorney General Webster, for the Times, called Capt. O'Shea to the witness stand. He testified that he had been on good terms with Parnell until June, 1885. Witness did not know Egan, nor did he have any knowledge of that man's doings in 1881. Witness said Parnell had frequent conferences with Gladstone and undertook to do his utmost to suppress boycotting.

Parnell declared that Boyton and Egan would be useful in putting down boycotting if they could be convinced of the wisdom of the new policy respecting the settlement of rents. Attorney General Webster here read a letter from Parnell from Killmainham jail, expressing Parnell's opinion that if the arrears of rent question were settled he and his colleagues would be able to suppress outrages.

O'Shea said further that the day after the Phoenix park murder Parnell showed him the anti-murder manifesto which it had been decided to issue. Witness warned him that Sheridan was a murderer and a concoctor of murders. Parnell asked that a month be given him to communicate with Sheridan.

Seven letters written about this time were shown witness, who declared the signatures to be Parnell's.

On the cross-examination by Sir Charles Russell, O'Shea was asked if he had ever threatened Parnell. "Once I turned him out of my rooms in Dublin," he replied, "I told him to get out and I did not want to see him again." O'Shea said he had been anxious to clear himself of the slanders circulated by Parnell.

Returning to the Killmainham jail treaty negotiation, witness said the chief conditions of the negotiations were that the league should be broken up if the Irish landlords would reduce their rents and receive compensation from the exchequer. Many of the memoranda which he had made were destroyed in 1883, when there was danger of a select committee of parliament being appointed to inquire into the Killmainham treaty, and it was intimated to him that the utmost reticence ought to be observed on the subject.

Sir Charles Russell—Intimated by whom? Witness—By Sir William Vernon Harcourt, who said it was the opinion of another person—namely, Mr. Gladstone.

This statement caused a sensation in the court, and Justice Hamer asked that everybody abstain from manifesting his feelings during the proceedings.

Sir Charles Russell—Was it you, then, who destroyed the memoranda?

Witness—Yes. Certain memoranda which were in another box, and which included some of Mr. Chamberlain's letters, escaped destruction. It was Mr. Gladstone's wish that I should be as reticent as possible from motives of political expediency.

King George's Twenty-Fifth.

ATHENS, Nov. 2.—The festivities Wednesday in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of King George's accession to the throne were carried out on a grand scale. The weather was splendid. Preparing for Trouble in Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 2.—A Canada Pacific road train with one hundred infantry has arrived, and a second train with 400 men from the Canada Pacific shops, shortly after. Six hundred men are encamped at the point where the Portage extension crosses the Canadian Pacific road, all armed. The feeling between the forces is gradually getting more bitter. Should the Manitoba government force a crossing, the Dominion infantry will interfere, as such are their orders. A proclamation has been issued calling the Manitobian legislature together for the dispatch of business on November 9.
